

Schools Leaders. Com

Leaders are not born but are made in this world itself.

We plan to become leaders by helping out each other in making up for the deficiencies we have.

We will be coordinating with different members across the world. Soon the world will see the events totally managed by a group including members like you competing with the professionals.

There will be regular meetings and trainings to help us apart from the quizzes, poem and story contests.

If you think you have the capability to become the leader, then surely you can. So come to schoolsleaders.com to become the leader in life.

First 500 students get free exclusive badges and certificates awarded by schoolsleaders.com. The country leaders will be selected from these leaders only.

So, prepare yourself for Leading The WORLD by joining us at www.schoolsleaders.com
